Supporting Children & Young People with Special Educational Needs (SEN)

Information for parents and carers detailing the SEN support children and young people can receive regardless of which school/academy they attend in Calderdale; this outlines the support provided by the school, and partners.

This information should be read alongside individual schools’ local offer which will provide more details about how each area will be addressed.
Background Information

Most children and young people in Calderdale with Special Educational Needs (SEN) and additional needs attend their local mainstream primary or secondary school. This includes children and young people who have a Statement of Special Educational Need (SEN) or Education, Health and Care (EHC) Plan. All schools will have a nominated Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENCo) who has responsibility for inclusion and will have direct links to the school Governing Body.

The following information aims to outline what provision and support can be expected in any mainstream school/academy. This support will be available as required for all children and young people with SEN with or without an EHC plan (or Statement). It will include all the support that schools/academies are responsible for providing from their Notional SEN budget and other support that is provided universally. For children and young people who have complex needs and have a Statement of SEN or EHC Plan, the Local Authority will provide High Needs Top Up funding to assist schools in meeting the outcomes detailed in the Statement or EHC Plan.

Frequently asked questions

1. How do I decide which is the best school for my child?

- Most schools have websites, and are usually happy to meet with parents to discuss concerns and worries, and allow you to ask questions about how they could support your child.
- Calderdale Council is committed to inclusion and integration for all children and young people, however in some circumstance a child or young person’s needs may be best met within one of the Special Schools in the authority – all have strong links to mainstream schools and further information can be found in their Local Offer on their respective websites
- Section 6 of the SEN Code of Practice gives guidance about what you can expect from schools and providers right through from Early Years to Further Education.

2. How does the school know if my child needs extra help?

Your child’s class teacher will
- monitor progress and check learning against schools’ monitoring and tracking systems
- Talk to previous school and/or class teacher
- Listen to concerns raised by parents and/or other agencies including Health
- Listen to and observe your child particularly if there is a change in behaviour or in the classroom generally
- See Sections 1.1 & 1.5 in the table above

3. How will I raise concerns with school?

- All schools will have an open communication process allowing regular contact between home and school
- Contact your child’s Class Teacher, Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENCo) or Headteacher
- You can raise concerns at Parents Evenings
- You can ask for support from Parent Partnership and/or Calderdale Parents and Carers
- See Section 3.1 & 3.2 of the SEN Code of Practice Involving children, young people and parents in decision making.
4. How will school support my child?

- The school SENCo oversees all support and progress for any child who has additional needs
- The Class Teacher will plan work according to each child’s individual needs
- If appropriate there may be a Learning Support Assistant working with your child either individually or as part of a group
- Schools are committed to ensuring continuous professional development for staff to ensure appropriate training needs are up to date
- Shared best practice between schools
- See Sections 1.1 – 1.6 in the table above

5. How are schools’ resources allocated and matched to children’s special educational needs?

- All schools receive an additional amount of money to help make special educational provision to meet the SEN needs of individual children and young people. This is called the “notional SEN budget”. (Special educational provision is anything that is provided to meet a child’s or young person’s SEN that is additional to or different from provision made for all children.)
- Schools will assess individual needs and look to provide additional support identified within the local offer.
- If schools’ believe that a child or young person’s needs cannot fully be met using this funding, they can consider requesting Statutory Assessment for an EHC Plan. This will always take place through consultation with parents/carers and will take in to account the views of the child or young person.
- See Section 6.7 of the SEN Code of Practice Funding for SEN Support and Section 7.3 Considering whether an assessment is necessary

6. How are decisions made about what type and how much support my child/young person will receive?

- Schools use baseline assessments to monitor attainment and progression. If progress isn’t being made and a child or young person is not achieving within expected age appropriate levels , the SENCo or class teacher will discuss with you how school will support your child
- In addition to the point above if you have concerns about your child’s progress or have any other concerns not necessarily just around education, talk to the class teacher in the first instance.
- The type and amount of support will be decided using a graduated response i.e. more significant needs will require a higher level of support and may use advice and guidance from other professionals, whereas a much lower level of need may only require short term support or distance shadowing for example.
7. How will I know if the support is working?

- The SENCo or Class Teacher will meet with parents regularly to set and review targets (this could be at Parents’ Evening or individual pupil meetings).
- Supporting your child with homework will give you regular opportunities to look at how your child has progressed but will also help you to identify areas where he/she might be struggling.
- Ask your child how the school day has gone – feedback to the Class Teacher any positives and negatives.

8. What support will there be for my child’s overall wellbeing?

- Class Teachers have responsibility to ensure all pupils are happy and engaged in all school activities – if not they will seek advice and guidance from the SENCo and other Senior Leaders and will talk to parents.
- Schools run different types of nurture activities and will identify suitable programmes tailored to meet the needs of pupils for example friendship groups.
- See Sections 1.1, 2.2, 3.1, 3.2, 4.1 & 4.2 in the table above.
- See Section 6.3 of the SEN Code of Practice The four areas of special educational need.

9. What support will my child have around transition between key stages including transition to secondary school?

- Primary and Secondary staff work successfully together around transition planning and links between the two ensure children and young people are familiar with structures and routines.
- All Calderdale Schools are committed to a transition day during the summer term where Year 6 pupils visit their allocated secondary school.
- Children and young people with SEN will usually be given further opportunities for visits according to their needs.
- Sometimes staff from secondary schools will observe prospective pupils in primary schools in order to determine how best to meet their needs.
- All Calderdale Schools are committed to transition between key stages and will each have an individual approach – further information will be found in Schools’ Local Offer.
- Children, young people and their families will be given opportunities throughout the year to discuss concerns and gather information via Parents’ Evenings, transition planning meetings and individual meetings with school staff where appropriate.
10. What clubs and activities do schools offer during lunch times and after school?

- Most Calderdale Schools offer a range of supervised lunch time and after school clubs and some offer activities during school holidays – detailed information will be found in Schools’ Local Offer or on Schools’ websites.

11. Who can support me if I don’t know the answers to questions or concerns I may have?

- In Calderdale we have organisations that can help you to find out information
  - Calderdale Parents & Carers 01422 343090
  - Parent Partnership 01422 266141
  - See Section 9 of the SEN Code of Practice Resolving Disputes
